THE JEFFREY CHEAH INSTITUTE ON SOUTHEAST ASIA (JCI)

SOLVING ASIA'S DEVELOPMENT PROBLEMS

The Jeffrey Cheah Institute on Southeast Asia (JCI) was established in March 2014 as an independent public policy think tank, based in Sunway University on the outskirts of Kuala Lumpur.

- The mission of JCI is to develop efficient and equitable solutions to some of the region's most pressing development problems.
- Its research programme is grouped around three core areas: economic development, governance, and social progress (including education). JCI works closely with the Jeffrey Sachs Center on Sustainable Development (JSC) at Sunway University for the achievement of the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) adopted by the United Nations in 2016.
- JCI engages with policymakers, scholars and ordinary citizens through regular public lectures and specialised workshops.
- JCI has forged many academic partnerships in the region and the wider Asia-Pacific. International partners include Harvard University (United States), Columbia University (United States), ISEAS – Yusof Ishak Institute (Singapore), Keio University (Japan), Korea Institute for International Economic Policy (KIEP), and Shanghai Jiao Tong University. In Malaysia, JCI's collaborators include the Foreign Policy Study Group, Merdeka Center, Penang Institute, and the Centre for Public Policy Studies.

Acceptance into the programme for Conventional and Open Distance Learning are by application and selection only.

TAUGHT PROGRAMME

PROGRAMME DESCRIPTION:

We provide support, social networks and flexibility in an innovative learning and environment.

The Master in Public Policy at the Jeffrey Cheah Institute on Southeast Asia prepares students to develop practical solutions to real-world policy problems in the region through a multi-disciplinary focus in economics, quantitative analysis and public policy management.

This programme is formulated to equip graduates and mid-career professionals to develop greater technical capability in evidence-based policy analysis and to possess deeper understanding on fundamental concepts and contemporary issues on economic development, social inclusion, political governance and technological trends.

CAREER PROSPECTS

Graduates of the programme are expected to develop their career in middle-management in public and private sector. They are expected to be very competitive for careers in consulting and research institutions, public sector, NGOs, local banks, international development banks such as World Bank and Asian Development Bank, International Organisations such as UNDP, UNCTAD, and key regional research and consulting institutions.

INEQUALITY. AUTOMATION. GLOBAL WARMING.

We face increasingly difficult policy challenges. The COVID-19 pandemic has laid bare the structural challenges that plague the governance and administration of every country across the world.

More than ever, there is a pressing need for policy specialists who have a combined mastery of theoretical knowledge, technical skills and implementation abilities to solve these problems.

WHERE THIS PROGRAMME COULD TAKE YOU

With the skills accumulated in this programme, graduates will be equipped to address the policy challenges of rapidly-changing socioeconomic dimensions in the region.

The programme's multidisciplinary emphasis on knowledge, analytic skills and management is highly transferable across sectors, issues and regions.

Graduates are able to work throughout the world in key roles in the public, private or non-profit sectors.
