a. Accreditation of Prior Experiential Learning (APEL)

Accreditation of Prior Experiential Learning, a system to provide access to higher education programmes and academic recognition for individuals with informal and non-formal learning throughout their work and life experiences introduced by Malaysian Qualifications Agency (MQA). It involves the identification, documentation and assessment of prior learning to determine the extent to which an individual has achieved the desired learning outcomes, for access to a programme of study and/or award of credits.

b. APEL.A

Accreditation of Prior Experiential Learning for Access is an assessment for individuals with working experience but lack formal academic qualifications to pursue their studies in Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) at the certificate, diploma, bachelor and masters' levels.

c. APEL.C

Accreditation of Prior Experiential Learning for Credit Transfer/Award is an assessment of prior learning that are relevant to the course learning outcomes within a specific programme of study so that learners can avoid repetition of learning and to maximize their learning potential, through award of credits.

d. APEL Unit

APEL Unit is a dedicated unit that manages the application for APEL in Sunway University. The main function of APEL Unit is to coordinate and provide support to faculty members throughout all APEL process.

e. Subject Learning Outcomes

Each subject in every programme of study has its learning outcomes stated clearly in the subject outline, which is a general description of the course in a specific programme of study. SLOs are the desired learning expected of learners from each subject.

f. Informal Learning

Learning which takes place outside education systems in which the learner is involved in activities that are not undertaken with a learning purpose in mind. It is usually involuntary and part of daily life.

g. Non-formal Learning

Learning acquired outside the formal education system or training which does not lead to formal certification. It usually arises from the learner's conscious decision to master a particular activity, skill or knowledge. There is no formal syllabus and accreditation.

1. Introduction

To support the Malaysian Education Blue Print for Higher Education 2015 to 2025 as a Nation of Life Long Learners; the Malaysian Qualification Agency (MQA) has created the Accreditation of Prior Experiential Learning for Credit Award - APEL C. It is a pathway into Higher Education programmes by recognizing individuals who have acquired non-formal and informal learning in their work and life experiences.

Sunway University is committed in providing recognition and opportunity to learners of all ages who constantly seek learning opportunities to enrich themselves. The purpose of the APEL.C Learner's Handbook is to guide learners such as yourself through the steps and support afforded to you through the credit award initiative; APEL.C.

Disclaimer:

This Handbook must be read together with the Sunway University Student Handbook which describes the Regulations of the University under the provision of the Sunway University Academic Governance.

1.1 Definition of APEL

Accreditation of Prior Experiential Learning (APEL) is a systematic process that involves the identification, documentation and assessment of prior experiential learning, i.e., knowledge, skills and attitudes, to determine the extent to which an individual has achieved the desired learning outcomes, for access to a programme of study and/or award of credits. APEL process generally involves the assessment of experiential learning, including those which have not previously been assessed or credit rated. This learning may be acquired through formal, non-formal and informal means, including formal schooling, work and life experiences, training, independent study, voluntary work, hobbies and family experiences.

Formal learning refers to a learning/programme of study delivered within an organised and structured context (preschool, primary school, secondary school, college and university) that may lead to formal recognition or a recognised qualification.

Non-formal learning refers to learning that takes place alongside the mainstream systems of education and training. It may be assessed but does not normally lead to formal certification.

Informal learning refers to learning which takes place continuously through life and work experiences. It is often unintentional learning.

Examples of prior experiential learning include the relevant knowledge, skills and attitudes gained through:

- work experience: fulltime, part-time or casual;
- voluntary ad community work;
- family duties;
- hobbies or leisure activities;
- coaching and mentoring others;
- attending and participating in seminars, conferences and workshops;
- attending short courses;
- fluency in other languages;
- private study and research; and
- any other life experiences.

1.2 Introduction to APEL.C

APEL for Credit Award, known as APEL.C was developed by MQA to support the lifelong learning by recognizing the value of learning that takes place beyond the formal classroom settings as well as learning that occur throughout work and life experiences; regardless of when, where and how it was acquired.

APEL.C provides the mechanism to recognize the individual's prior experiential learning that is relevant and specific to a course within a programme of study. The credit award is granted on the basis of knowledge and skills acquired through non-formal and informal learning.

These forms of learning which emphasize experiential learning will need to be formally reviewed and assessed. The process will determine if learning has in fact occurred and is in line with the learning outcomes of the subject(s) concerned. It is the learning and not the experience of the students which is being evaluated.

2. Policies, Rules and Regulations

2.1 General Policies

APEL.C is defined as the “award of credits for the prior experiential learning towards a course in an accredited programme” in Guidelines to Good Practices: Accreditation of Prior Experiential Learning for Credit Award APEL.C. ## 3. APEL.C Assessment Procedures

3.1 Pre-Application Process

- a) Learners who are interested to apply for APEL.C will be required to complete the APEL.C Enquiry Form via iZone or through the APEL.C portal; university.sunway.edu.my/APEL which will be submitted to APEL Unit. Alternatively, the learners can email the APEL Unit at apel@sunway.edu.my.
- b) Learners are expected to submit the Enquiry Form for APEL.C at least a semester prior to which the subject offered that a learner is seeking credit award. It is strongly recommended for learners to initiate the APEL.C application process as soon as they are registered onto the programme of study i.e. within the first semester or first year of study on the programme.
- c) An APEL Advisor will get in touch online or physically to set an appointment with the learner for a briefing on the APEL.C application process.
- d) During the stage, the Advisor will provide the learner with an APEL.C Handbook and brief learners on the entirety of the application process.

- e) The learner will be required to fill up the APEL.C Acknowledgement Form (Refer to Appendix A) to be given by the Advisor at the end of the pre- application stage. This is to ensure that the learner was adequately briefed on the APEL.C process.

3.2 Application Process

- a) After the completion of the pre-application process, the APEL.C application process may then be carried out. The APEL.C Application process involves the following:
  - i. Self-Assessment
  - ii. Assessment
  - iii. Assessment Result
- b) Learners are encouraged to make application for APEL.C in their semester 1 or year 1 of their study programme. The latest that the application can be made is a semester prior to the offering of the subject that the learner is seeking credit transfer for. This is to ensure that the assessment evaluation and endorsement of assessment for credit transfer can be completed in time.
- c) The following provides a guide in relation to the timeline for the APEL.C application process:

Table 2: Guide on Timeline for APEL.C Application Process

APEL.C Application Activity	Timeline/Duration
Learner inquiry and pre-application process	First semester or first year of study (Latest to initiate the pre-application process is a semester prior to offering of subject learner is seeking credit award).
Consultation with Advisor Self-assessment exercise Conduct of assessment Assessment evaluation and moderation	Two (2) months
Quality assurance review Subject Assessment Board Programme Assessment Board	One (1) month

Learner informed of the official assessment result	Within five (5) days after endorsement of Programme Assessment Board

Note: If a learner is unsuccessful in the assessment and wants to make an appeal, the duration for the APEL.C application process may be further extended by at least another one (1) month.

3.2.1 Self-Assessment

- a) Prior to the submission of a formal application for APEL.C, the learner will be required to complete a self-assessment exercise with the guidance of the Advisor. The learner will be required to:
  - i. Complete the APEL.C Self-Assessment Form (Appendix B)
  - ii. Submit a 500-word report related to information on learner's prior experiential learning which is related to the subject applied for the credit award (Appendix B).
  - iii. Provide updated curriculum vitae.
- b) The Advisor assigned to the learner will advise and give guidance on the completion of the Self-Assessment Form. The learner is expected to submit to the Advisor the completed Self- Assessment Form and other supporting documents within one (1) week.
- c) Based on the Self-assessment exercise, the Advisor will determine the student's eligibility and make appropriate recommendation:
  - i. If evaluation of the self-assessment exercise indicates that learner is unlikely to succeed, the learner will be advised accordingly, and application will cease.
  - ii. If evaluation of the self-assessment exercise indicates that learner is likely to succeed in the application, the learner will be asked to complete APEL.C Application Form (Appendix C) and submit a fee for the application process.
  - iii. Once the application has been processed by APEL.C Unit, the learner will be provided on the Assessment process based on the method of assessment recommended by the Advisor: Portfolio or Challenge Test.

- d) If the learner is eligible, the learner is to make a payment sum according to the Section 2.4 Fees.

3.4 Assessment & Results Process

- a) Credits that are awarded through APEL.C must be based on demonstrated and evidence- based learning; and not solely on the basis of claiming the experience itself.
- b) Learners must meet the assessment criteria to determine the evidence presented is satisfactory and appropriate in terms of;
- i. Good alignment/matching between CLO's stated in the course outline and the evidence
  - ii. Evidence presented is reliable (the assessment can be repeated with the same outcomes) and valid (the assessment must be able to identify the knowledge and skills it purports to assess)
  - iii. Sufficient evidence is provided; in breadth and depth including evidence of reflection to demonstrate the achievement of the CLO's or competencies claimed
  - iv. Evidence clearly reflects the learner's own effort and experience
  - v. Evidence provided reflect the currency of knowledge/skills as required by the discipline of the course
- c) For both the Challenge Test and/or Portfolio assessment, learners must achieve at least 50% of each Subject Learning Outcome (SLO).
- d) The course that has been awarded credit through APEL.C will appear in the transcript of the student as "CT(APEL)", which is to be read together with the Malaysian Qualification Statement (MQS).

- e) The credit will not be graded and will not be considered in the calculation of GPA/CGPA. However, the credits will be counted towards the total credits required for graduation.
- f) All results of the assessment and award credit through APEL.C will be reviewed by Subject Assessment Board and confirmed by Programme Assessment Board, a standing committee of Academic Senate.
- g) Learners will be informed of their APEL.C Assessment results through Sunway University's eLearn portal.
- h) Learners who are not successful in the APEL.C assessment will have to complete the subject through the usual process in their respective programme of studies.
- i) A learner who fails the Challenge Test of the chosen subject will not be allowed to submit a Portfolio for assessment for the same subject and vice versa. Re-attempt of the Challenge Test and re-submission of new evidence in the Portfolio for the same subject through APEL.C is strictly NOT allowed.

3.5 Appeal Process

- a) A student who is not satisfied with the decision of the APEL.C assessment results can submit to APEL.C Unit a written appeal (emailed to APEL.C Unit) providing the grounds of appeal by completing the APEL.C Appeals Form (Appendix F). The appeal must be submitted within one (1) week from the date of the official announcement of the result.
- b) APEL. C Unit will then forward the appeal request to the concerned department or school. The Dean of the school will be responsible to appoint a different Assessor to evaluate the merit of the appeal. A processing fee will be charged for each appealed subject.
- c) The appeal process may take up to one (1) month or more depending on the appeal case that needs to be reviewed. The decision of the appeal will be informed to the learner by the APEL.C Unit, and the decision that the Assessor for the appeal has made will be final.

4. Assessment Instrument of APEL.C

4.1 Assessment Instruments

- a) The assessment of APEL.C will encompass the comparability of the experiential learning acquired by the learner to the learning outcomes of a subject in an existing programme. The assessment should strictly be made in correspondence to the credit value of the course and level of the programme.
- b) The APEL.C Assessment process will be administered online through Sunway University's eLearn portal.
- c) Based on the evaluation of the Self-assessment Exercise, the Advisor may recommend to the learner to undertake a Challenge Test or submit a Portfolio for the assessment.
- d) The evaluation of the assessments will be done by an Assessor who is a subject matter expert in the course applied for APEL.C assessment and credit transfer.
- e) If the learner is to undertake a Challenge Test, the learner will be informed of the details and conduct of the Challenge Test through the eLearn portal. Similarly, where a Portfolio submission is required, the learner will be informed on the deadline and submission link for the submission date through the eLearn portal.
- f) Learners are not allowed to apply for APEL.C for subjects which the learner has already registered for and have undertaken during the period of study.
- g) A Learner may undertake either a Challenge Test and/or submission of Portfolio depending on the nature of the course and upon advice by the appointed APEL.C Advisor.

4.2 Challenge Test

- a) A Challenge Test is a proctored standard test to assess if the student has achieved the Subject Learning Outcomes (SLOs).

- b) A Challenge Test can be in the form of a written test, oral examination and/or performance assessment; depending on the nature and discipline of the course.
- c) A combination of several methods of assessments maybe required to appropriately measure prior experiential learning of the learner that meets the learning outcome of the subject.
- d) Learners will be informed on the assessments allotted to them through eLearn.
- e) All Challenge Test assessments, announcements and assessment information will be provided via eLearn. Learners will be responsible in keeping up with information pertaining to their APEL.C Challenge Test independently through eLearn.

4.3 Portfolio Submission Guidelines

- a) A Portfolio is a formal document that contains a compilation of evidence documenting the learner's prior experiential learning and his/her articulation of learning acquired over a period.
- b) A Portfolio is prepared by the learner with the objective to demonstrate that the learning acquired is relevant and specific to each of the course learning outcome for a particular course.
- c) Students are required to complete the Portfolio Submission Form (Appendix D) in documenting their prior experiential learning with their Portfolio Submission.
- d) In submitting the Portfolio, the learner must ensure that they meet the assessment criteria by providing evidence that are relevant and sufficient to indicate mastery of the learning outcomes of the subject that the learner is applying credit award for.
- e) A learner may be required to attend interview or undertake any supplementary assessment to substantiate the evidence submitted for the Portfolio. The Portfolio must be prepared in English.
- f) All Portfolio submission, interviews and additional evidences requested will be submitted through the designate eLearn course.

- g) The learner will be responsible in keeping up with information pertaining to their APEL.C Portfolio Submission independently through eLearn.

4.3 Criteria for Award

Credits awarded via the APEL.C initiative must be awarded based on demonstrated evidence-based learning; not solely on the basis of experience claims itself. Consideration can be given for all types of learning regardless of where, when and how it was acquired, the learner must prove through assessments that learning had taken place. The learning is assessed mapped to the Course Learning Outcomes.

For both Challenge Test and Portfolio Assessment, learners are required to achieve at least 50% of each Course Learning Outcome.
